Customer Reviews

These three Halloween novellas all take place in and around the same inn, Rose Cottage, in the town of Moonbright, Maine. The owner of which has a few magical tricks up her sleeve when it comes to falling in love. Charmed by You â Kate Angell The first story is by far the shortest, and its author was the reason why I picked up this anthology in the first place. Yet itâs also my least favorite. I really didnât like Cade or his unprofessional cousins. I thought he was a complete jerk, actually. Sure, Grace is a bit uptight and definitely micromanages things, but Cadeâs attitude towards her smacks of sexism, and I struggled to get past that or believe in their relationship. Or the reason why he hated Halloween. Add in a really abrupt ending and sadly, this one wasnât what Iâd hoped for. 2.5 Stars. Mesmerized by You â Jennifer Dawson This is both a much better length for a novella and also a much more enjoyable story, with a good friends-to-lovers plot, which may or may not have been given a little magical assistance. Sure, itâs obvious to everyone except Jack and Chloe that they are not just perfect for each other but also madly in love. However, itâs still pretty cute seeing them finally get there - nice and steamy too. 3.5 Stars. Enchanted by You â Sharla Lovelace The final story is the longest and that helped a lot in the enjoyment stakes. Itâs a second chance romance between a hardworking lawyer with people issues and a local handyman who has created a whole new life for himself at the heart of the community. I would have liked to have seen a little more of Sydneyâs awkwardness at times, to be honest, because she really doesnât seem to have many people issues despite claims otherwise.

Moonbright, Maine is the place, and Rose cottage is the setting for these three very different short romances. Filled with the sights of late autumn with the twist of magic and pumpkin everything, three authors are taking a moment in time to tell what happened at Rose Cottage, The Cottage at Pumpkin and Vine. Starting with Charmed by You from Kate Angell, itâs before the holiday and party planner Grace is doing everything possible to get it just right. Bossy, pushy and a bit shrill, where Grace shines is with kids, as she wants the party to be everything they dreamed of. I wasnât a huge fan of Cade: hired to do a job but manages to whine, moan and groan throughout. His dislike of the holiday didnât work for me, and if proximity is all that chemistry needs to make a relationship believable, theirs didnât work for me. I wanted to see more growth in Cade, and watch Grace lose that shrill edge and enjoy herself more. My least favorite of the three. Next up is Mesmerized by You from Jennifer Dawson, and I loved other titles Iâve read. We are now at the Halloween Party and friends Chloe and Jake are there together, after traveling to visit Chloeâs aunt. With only one room at the inn, a touch of moonlight and a bit of magic, their eyes open to see the bond that is there. Wonderful friends to lovers story that just hits every sweet note. Lastly is a second chance at romance story from Sharla Lovelace, Enchanted by You. Separated by a misunderstanding since high school, Sidney and Sawyer come face to face | both realizing theyâ™™ve still got feelings. Oh just so sweet â€” even as the two have their own reasons for not believing in the magic | their bond and connection is palpable.
