Customer Reviews

I took a chance on this being that there were no reviews. Right off the bat, I am 100% happy with my purchase.-it's a notebook size log. Which is what I wanted. I'm not a fan of the smaller reader's journals I've had in the past.-the cover is beautiful and really does have a matte finish. Feels lovely.-TABLE OF CONTENTS. Sorry to shout. I've always been frustrated with journals that just jump into book reviews. I like to have an actual log to look at to be able to give a quick glance at when I can't remember the actual title of something I want to suggest to a friend. I will often remember parts of the story or a bit of the title, so seeing the titles spark my memory.-the table of contents consists of 100 lines to log your titles.-following the table of contents you will have a page each to record the specifics of the book as well as a review.-after the pages to review they've added the list of 100 books to read. I like this because I have several of these books on my reading list for this year.-there's a page for general notes.-and finally log to record books that you loan out.I'm putting in an order for several more copies so that I can re-log from my previous journals that I just don't really care for and extras for the future because with my luck they won't be available later when I need another. :)I hope this review helps you, I spent days going over various options before I decided to give this one a shot. I'm glad I did.

I agree totally with the previous reviewer! In fact, it was because of the excellent description and images presented there that I sent for this reader's log. I have been an avid reader for too many years to count and decided it's time to purchase a journal/log! I'm glad I waited to find this one. The large format is ideal to keep on my desk and I love the cover design of books, as well as all that is inside for me to enjoy filling in. You can't go wrong with this reading journal,.

I really loved the layout for this journal and how the pages looked. I was even more excited about it when I got the book in my hands. The only problem I have with it is that instead of opening up to the table of contents page it opened to page 52/53. So it was misprinted. :(A bit of a let down, but it does not obviously render the journal unusable by any means. I simply cut page 52/53 out and will live with out it. For the price, it's not worth exchanging, and it may have been a fluke. Again, otherwise, I love it and I would recommend it to a friend.

I bought 3 of these after reading the excellent reviews. Love how big they are and there is ample space to write. I also love how you can make your own "table of contents." A great nonelectronic way to keep up with books read and your thoughts on them.

This "journal " of keeping track of the book's you've read and what you like /disliked about them is spot on Brilliant! I bought 2. Gave 1 as a gift. My friend also was over the moon when she received it
