Customer Reviews

I moderate several online book groups and maintain a reading website. I have been extremely picky about my book journal for 2012 - with all of the books I go through, I really wanted something different! I recently ordered this journal from Amazon after seeing it at B&N with a higher price tag. I am extremely pleased with it, and I have to say that it is my favorite book journal I have ever looked at or owned. This will become my annual journal starting in 2012. It is the perfect size for tucking into a purse or bag, but not so small that writing in it is awkward. I used a Moleskine journal this past year and ultimately cast it aside. I became very annoyed with the alphabetical layout (I prefer to go in chronological order) and the really thin pages. I stopped using it during the summer and tossed it in the trash when I went on a cleaning binge this fall. I also didn't like how it had blank spaces. I REALLY prefer lines to write on! I did save my leftover stickers to use in this book! The journal is black with the print "The Book Lover's Journal" on the front in white font. It is about 7 x 4.6 inches and has a covered spiral ring binding. I was able to tuck a pen inside and have it close perfectly. The first pages include: Contact Information Introductory Pages Table of Contents for you to fill in with book titles The primary journal pages (room for about 140 books) include space for recording on the left page in book: Title Author Publisher Number of Pages Fiction (check box) Genre: Non-Fiction (check box) Subject: How I Discovered or Acquired This Book When and Where Read Noteworthy Experiences While Reading This Book Check Out Author's Other Books (check box) Or Related Books?

I sort of had my own book journal, which was just a blank page journal wherein I kept track of everything I'd read, along with various details about each. When I ran into this Journal, I loved it so much, I bought it on the spot, and then came home and ordered a second copy from . You couldn't ask for a more comprehensive journal to record your readings, and all in 4 5/8" X 7 1/2". You even have a nice covered spiral binding that not only allows the journal to lay flat, but also gives you a nice channel for your pen. Here are the various sections in detail: Pages 8 to 143: Book Log (including two pages for a Table of Contents for your book log). Here, you record author, publisher, # pages, genre, how you discovered the book, when & where read, noteworthy experiences while reading, and whether you'd recommend it to others. You also rate, on a scale of ten, quality of writing, pace, plot development, characters, enjoyability, insightfulness, ease of reading, and photos/illustrations. All that was on the left hand page. The right hand page is for notes and opinions. At the very bottom of that page are 5 stars, and you fill in the appropriate number. (I personally rate on a scale of 10 on a blank line on the left hand page). So this, you see, is the bulk of the journal, as it should be. Pages 145 to 167: Books I'd Like to Read (including two pages for a Table of Contents). You can record 3 books on each page, and there is space for the title, author, approximate length, recommended by, and genre/subject. Pages 170 to 173: Where I Get My Books (company/site, phone, web site, user name, password, account number). Pages 174 to 177: Books I've Borrowed Pages 178 to 181: Books I've Lent.
